

Complete Content Delivery Solution

Free Delivery of Your Reports through Email, Fax, and the Web

“Can you send it to me as a PDF?”

It's simple to do with Content Express!

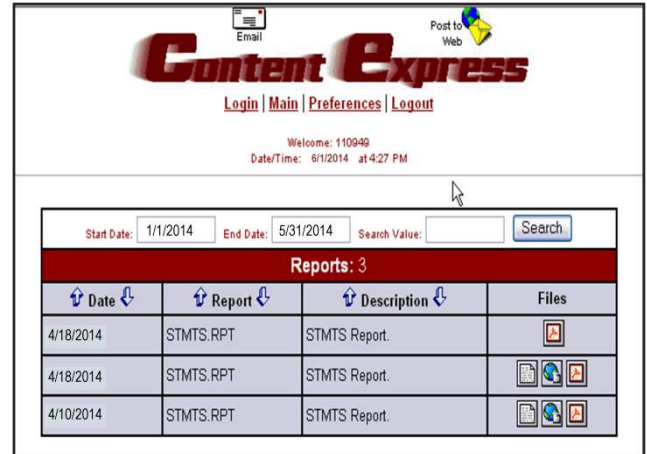

Content Express™ is a complete content delivery solution that automatically reads and splits your computer-generated reports, turns them into PDF, HTML, and text files, and distributes them to your recipients via email, fax, or the web. Instant no-hassle delivery of your files, documents, databases, and spreadsheets, as well as reports and invoices, saves you time and money...

By moving to a digital distribution system, your company is guaranteed to realize thousands of dollars in savings within a couple of months. You will use less paper, printer toner, and postage and spend less time printing and assembling paper reports.

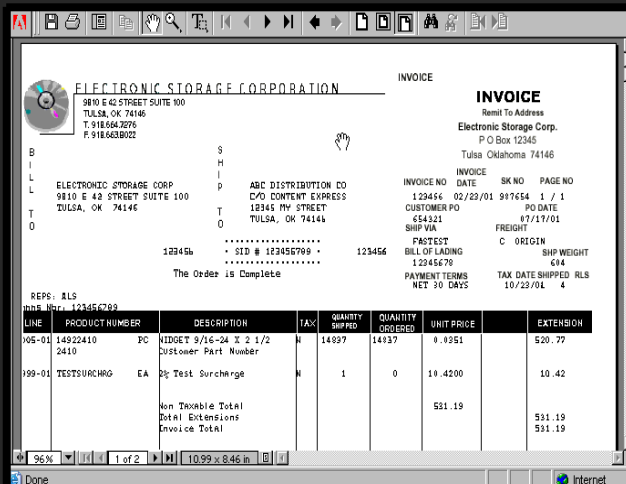

Content Express also contains a forms overlay feature that can be used for your company invoices, order acknowledgments, sales reports, or statements to make the copies look like the original. Best of all, Content Express works with the reports and files that are generated by your host computer. No programming changes are required!

Export ASCII text reports into PDF or HTML files with the click of a mouse. An intuitive graphical interface is included with Content Express so that any user will be able to master the program with minimal training.
